DR. PAXTON AND HIS CHURCH.

THE SITUATION NOT LIKELY TO CHANGE FOR SEVERAL DAYS.

A MEETING OF THE TRUSTEES TO BE HELD THIS WEEK-E. C. VAN GLAHN MAKES A STATEMENT.

The condition of things in the West Presbyterian Church in regard to the resignation of the Rev. Dr. John R. Paxton will probably not be altered until after the next meeting of the trustees, which will take place this week. Reports were current yesterday that Edward H. Perkins, jr., chairman of the board, would be requested to resign his place, but Mr. Perkins himself said that he had not as yet been asked to do so, and had heard nothing of the rumor. It is not improbable, however, that he will present a statement to his associates giving his views of the controversy in a manner calcu-lated to correct misunderstandings and remove false impressions of his alleged attitude of hostility to Dr. Paxton. He certainly does not show any stility in his conversation. On the contrary, he manifests a spirit of the utmost kindness toward the preacher, and cannot believe that Dr. Paxton has expressed himself as he has been represented as doing in recent interviews concerning him. say anything in regard to the trouble except those things which shall express loyalty to Dr. Paxton and contempt for his defamers. It is no secret that Dr. Paxton has long been a great sufferer from painful physical ailments, largely the result of his service in the Army, W. H. Granbert of his service in the Army. W. H. Granberry characterized a story printed yesterday, bearing upon the alleged convivial habits of Dr. Paxton, in well-measured and carefully weighed words of denial of the statements contained therein. He said there had been rumors of many kinds regarding Dr. Paxton, but whenever an attempt was made to seek the original fountains whence they came ne could be found who would assume responsibility for them. As he expressed it, "We would hear this from the lips of 'D,' who said that he had been told it by 'C,' who, in turn, would say he heard it from 'B,' but when we tried to locate he never could be found. That is not fair. The person who gave those statements to the reporter ought to have courage enough to give his name or go and hide his head in the sand."

is so serious that he has been obliged to undergo excruciating surgical operations, all of which he has borne heroically. That the effects have permanent traces upon the victim there is no doubt, and it is said that his condition developed much sympathy with him on the part of his most in-fluential parishioner. It is also said that many sympathy with him on the part of his most influential parishioner. It is also said that many years ago his admirers in the church circle purchased, at a cost of $90,000, the house in which he has since lived, and presented it to his wife. It was a distinct personal gift, and, as one of the trustees said yesterday, "Had Ir. Paxton died the next day after the deed had passed to his wife she would have been as complete an owner of it as she is now, for the house was not treated as a mere parsonage, but was bestowed upon the wife of Dr. Paxton as an expression of personal regard and affection for her husband by the congregation." It is said also that Dr. Paxton has made investments of his savings, which from time to time have yielded him profitable returns. He is known to be a liberal man, and there have naturally been many calls upon him, so that his $15,000 salary, after all, was not esteemed to be very large in view of the social and charitable claims made upon a ciergyman of his standing.

Complaints have come from some sources, it is said, regarding the long sermons preached by Dr. Paxton. But those who have been known to utter such complaints allege that the protests were really intended in kindness and not from any lack of interest in what he said, for he was always a pleasing speaker, constantly giving expression to original and entertaining thoughts. It is declared by some who are most strongly in favor of their pastor's resignation and retirement that the use of stimulants by him was in pursuance of medical advice; yet Dr. Paxton is a man of unusually nervous temperament and possessed of a brain of extraordinary activity. Then again, it is alleged that some of his utterances have been misinterpreted in the application of their true meaning. He has certainly spoken plainly from his polipit in outlining the duty of the rich to the poor in the period of hard times now prevailing. Several weeks ago he preached a sermon in which he was reported to have said that if a man with a starving family could not find w

WHAT MR. VAN GLAHN SAYS. As an illustration of the intensity of feeling stirred up in the church, Edward C. Van Glahn was reported to have exclaimed at a meeting on Wednesday evening: "Dr. Paxton's shame is Wednesday evening: "Dr. Paxton's shame is known wherever his name is." Mr. Van Glahn gave to the press yesterday this signed statement: "In my speech of Wednesday evening, which has been widely quoted, I stated that as a memof the session of the West Church I wanted the congregation to understand we had considered the matter of Dr. Paxton's resignation carefully

DR. PAXTON IS STILL PASTOR. To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: Your inquiry as to whether Dr. Paxton is pastor of the West Presbyterian Church, and Mr. Sage's position as quoted by you on the subject, are somewhat curious reading to Presby-terians. Mr. Nicoll said the special Grand Jury would take up election cases and excise cases and a number of other cases that had gone behind because of the extra work of the October Grand Jury in considering election cases and the time occupied by the November Grand Jury in handling bank cases. About fifty or sixty of these cases are to be disposed of. The special Grand Jury is expected to complete its work in about two weeks.

AMERICA TO BE DISCOVERED.

IMRE KIRALFY'S BIG SPECTACLE AT THE METRO POLITAN OPERA HOUSE.

Imre Kiralfy's spectacle "America," which was presented at the Auditorium in Chicago throughout the time of the World's Fair, will be seen for the first time here on Tuesday night at the Metropolitan Opera House. It will be given with all its original magnificence and perhaps something more. It is to occupy the "off nights" of the opera, and

Among the many scenes and incidents of the spectacle are the departure of Columbus, the voyage of discovery, San Salvador, triumphal return to Spain, processional pageant by the corps deballet and chorus and corps of auxiliaries; the Plymouth Plantation, 1621; Merrymount, 1623; bailet of merrymakers. Washington crossing the Delaware, the surrender of Yorktown, peace and the triumph of liberty, the temple of peace, ballet of arts and sciences, the palace of progress, ballet of American inventions; the early pioneers in the Far West, 1845; the close of the War of Secession, 1855; Wordid's Columbian Exposition, the Schaffer family in their acrobatic performance, the triumph of Columbia, congregation of nations, and cortege of the States and Territories of the Union.

Anybody who is already familiar with Imre Kiraffy's productions will know about what to expect, except that this is larger and more elaborate than the most of them. The music is by Angelo Venanzi, the costume designer is Alfred Edel, the scenic artists Amable & Gardy, Rube & Chaperon and Fromont & Lemeunier; and the costumes were made by E. Landoiff, Miss Fisher, W. Dazian and Mrs. Totres.

THIRD-AVE, CABLE CARS TO RUN TO MORROW.

The running of the new cable cars of the Third Avenue Railroad will be begun to-morrow afternoon. But the passengers will be limited to invited guests only, and the general public will have to wait until Tuesday. Then, for five cents, passengers will be carried from One-hundred-and-thirtieth-st. to Sixth at Language 1 will, find, the to Sixth-st. January 1 will find the cars running The new cars, 200 of them, are all at the Hariem station of the company, and, with their big plate glass windows, luxurious seats, broad platforms and wide aisles, present a strong contrast to the shabby "Noah's Arks," as they have been called, which have for so many years been run on the Third-ave line.

One thousand invitations have been sent out for to-morrow's trial trips, and twenty cars will be used to carry the guests. Mayor Gilroy, the Board of Aldernen, the Police Commissioners, judges of the different courts, police captains and newspaper men have been invited. The cars will leave the Harlem station at 2 o'clock p. m. At the end of the trip a luncheon will be served in the Sixty-fifth-st, station.

There is nothing in a pastor's resignation to his church except his notification of intention to relinsuish his work, and his request that his people will unite with him in asking the presbytery to release him. The presbytery accepts or declines the resignation as it sees fit. Mr. Sage's precedents in the corporations to which he refers are not germane. The courts recognize the presbytery in this matter alone, in the recognition of the Presbyterian form of church government. Dr. Paxton is undoubtedly the pastor of the West Presbyterian Church, and would so remain were he to present forty resignations, and the church to "accept" them all, until agers of the Candy Show, which was so success-

CLOSING SESSIONS OF THE EDUCATORS. THE ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGES AND PREPARA TORY SCHOOLS TO MEET NEXT YEAR

AT JOHNS HOPKINS. Yesterday morning's session closed the convention of the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Middle States and Maryland, which Schools of the Middle States and Maryland, which has been held at Hamilton Hall. Columbia College, for the last two days. It was decided to hold the convention of 1894 at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, on the two days following next Thanksgiving. A number of new colleges and schools were admitted to membership in the association. The election of officers for the year resulted as follows: President, President Patton, of Princeton; secretary, Professor John Quincy Adams, University of Pennsylvania; treasurer, Professor John B. Kieffer, of Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Penn.; vice-presidents, President Schurman, of Cornell University; S. G. Farrand, Newark Academy; Professor C. Western University of Pennsylvania; Professor Ira Remsen, Johns Hopkins, and Professor J. C. Meiling, Columbian University, The Executive Com-mittee consists of Professor Nicholas Murray Butler, Columbia College, President Isaac Sharpless, Haverford College; Professor J. B. Adams, Johns Hopkins University, and Professor J. M. Sterret, was: "Work in English in the Colleges and Preparatory Schools." The papers on this subject were atory Schools." The papers on this subject were limited to twenty minutes each, and were prepared and read by James C. Welling, president of Columbian University, Washington; Professor J. Morgan Hart, of Cornell; Dr. Edward Brooks, superintendent of schools, Philadelphia, and Mr. Wilson Ferrand, principal of Newark Academy. The discussion under the five-minute rule then followed and was led by Professor George R. Carpenter, of Columbia College; Professor Milton H. Turk, of Hobart College, Geneva, and John Calvin Rice, principal of Cheltenham Academy, Ogontz, Penn. The sense of all who took part in the debate was that the study of English should be put on a more intelligent basis, and that to it should be given a greater importance than heretofore. It was considered to be of greater value than the dead languages. It was also urged that good English be demanded in all departments of work, and that examination papers on any subject should be rejected if found to be deficient in good English. The meeting closed with the transaction of miscellaneous business.

The two days' sessions have been well attended. There have been present twenty-four college presidents, more than one hundred professors and nearly as many principals of preparatory schools. That the convention has been a success is shown by the unvarying attendence, and that the subjects under consideration have been toples of vital interest to educators is clearly made manifest by the number of delegates who have voluntarily entered into the discussions. The delegates have for the most part been staying at the Grand Union Hotel. This arrangement had been previously made by President Low and the executive committee for the last year. limited to twenty minutes each, and were prepare

THIS ELDERLY LADY WAS A FICTION.

Pittsfield, Mass., Dec. 2 (Special).-Clifford W. Thomas, with some allases, was arrested at Adams to-day for using the United States mails for fraudulent purposes. He was bound over by Judge Bixby, of the District Court, and taken to the Pittsfield Jail by Detective Pease this afternoon. He placed an advertisement in a Boston paper, to the effect that a wealthy lady wished to engage a young woman for traveiling companion to go South with her, giving the address of Mrs. N. E. T., Adams, Mass. He received about 500 replies, which he answered in his character of "clierly lady," giving particulars and asking for a dollar as a sign of good faith. Over half the applicants replied, inclosing the dollar. Nothing wrong was suspected until Sheriff Tinney received a letter from I. Harris, of Melrose, father of one of the applicants, inquiring about "N. E. T." Sheriff Tinney then inquired of the postoffice officials if mail had been received directed to that address, and, finding a large number of letters had been called for, watched the office until he saw a man inquiring for the letters, when he arrested him. Thomas admitted his guilt to State Detective Pease. It is expected the United States officials will investigate the case, and Thomas will probably be taken to Hoston for trial. young woman for travelling companion to go S

A CHANGE IN THE GRACE CHURCH CHOIR. S. P. WARREN, THE ORGANIST FOR TWENTY-

FIVE YEARS, TO GO-A SURPLICED CHORUS WILL BE ADDED. Samuel P. Warren, who has been organist of Grace Protestant Episcopal Church since 1868, will leave the service of that parish next spring. The reason of the change is a recent vote of the rector and vestry, adding to the quartet and chorus of mixed voices which have formed the choir of the church for many years a surpliced choir of men and boys, who will sing in the chancel. To this change Mr. Warren has been known to be strongly opposed. His place as organist and choirmaster will be filled after May 1, the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, rector of the church, said to a reporter yesterday, by J. M. Helfenstein, at present

Huntington, rector of the church, and reporter yesterday, by J. M. Helfenstein, at present organist of the Church of All Angels, at Eighty-first-st, and West End-ave.

The chancel choir, Dr. Huntington said, would consist of eighteen volces, and there will be twenty-two in the mixed choir which is to occupy the gallery at the Broadway end of the church, as here-tofore. The organ is in two parts, and may be played from either end of the church. This result appears to be in the nature of a compromise between that part of the congregation which favored the retention of the old choir as it is, or the use of a quartet alone, and those who desired the substitution of a choir of men and boys, according to the custom adopted by many Episcopal churches. The subject was much discuss a some months ago, when the parishioners voted by the small majority of five to retain the quartet and chorus. Not long after this decision, however, some changes were made in the composition of the quartet.

Mr. Warren was seen at the church yesterday. He did not care to discuss the matter.

SANDOW READY TO BEGIN AGAIN.

The strong man has come back and will begin from to-morow night. Since Sandow last was seen in public here he has spent a long summer in Chi-cago, and he shows a handsome jewel presented to him at the Trocadero in recognition of his strength in raising interest and receipts there. It is a Maltese cross of gold, bordered with diamonds, with two dumbbells, also studded with diamonds, crossed in the middle. Mayor Harrison was to have made in the middle. Mayor Harrison was to have made the presentation of this to Sandow on the very night when he was shot. Sandow has also been back to Europe since then and has just returned. He has a new feat, which he will do at Koster & Bial's in addition to those in which he is already familiar. It is to catch sacks of corn dropped from a considerable height on his shoulders. He catches three sacks, one upon the other, and they weight is pourfus each. He expects much more comfort in his performance than he found when he was in New-York before, on account of the difference of the searon. His exhibition hen, he says, was the hottest work he ever did.

ant Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the diocese of Kentucky, seceded from that body twenty years ago, giving as his reason for the secession the belief that the Church was fast tending toward Roman Catholicism, he came East, and, with a few followers, established what is now the parish of the First Reformed Episcopal Church in this city, Services were held in Lyric Hall, in Sixth-ave., just opposite Bryant Park, and were continued there until the congregation was able to secure a church for itself, in Madison-ave, at Forty-seventh-st. In 1876 the present handsome edifice was constructed. The Rev. Dr. Sabine has been the pastor of the church from its organization.
